WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16. 1743.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland, and two from Flanders.

Stockholm, March 8.

THINGS grow daily more and more out of Order here. We have had a Report spread of a considerable Advantage gained by General Fraudentat over the Russians on the Frontiers of Bofnia, but we doubt it is only raised by such as still favour this destructive War, in order to keep up our Spirits, and induce us more readily to break off the Conference at Abo. The Advantages lately gained in the Diet by the Order of Peasants, is with this Provision, that nothing now done shall be consider'd as a Precedent in succeeding Times. One of the Deputies lately return'd from Petersburg has declar'd, that the Czarina offer'd, in case the Duke of Holstein-Eutin was elected Successor to the Crown of Sweden, 1. To restore the best part of Finland. 2. To give his Royal Highness 3,000,000 Roubles. 3. To satisfy the Crown of Denmark in relation to the Duchy of Sleswick. 4. To procure his Highness a Comfort suitable to the Wishes of the Swedes. To permit their Traders to go with the Caravans that shall be establish'd between Moscow and China. The dear Buckwald received lately a Courier from Petersburg with Offers of the like Nature. It is evident that the Order of Peasants aim at Peace with Russia, and notice on the Authors of the War.

Mantua, March 7. The Spaniards are retiring into Romagna, and our Troops make the necessary Dispositions to follow them. The Regency of Tuscany have conceived new Jealousies of the Designs of Count de Gages, and in order to prevent his undertaking any thing to the prejudice of that Duchy, they have given Orders for reinforcing the Troops already assembled, so as to make them complete 10,000 Men. Our Reinforcements arrive daily, and we are only in pain for the irregular Troops, of whom as yet we have no certain Intelligence, and who terrify the Enemy to the last degree. The Piedmontese Miquelets or Hussars do the Spaniards considerable Damage, and to other Day had the good Fortune to carry away as much Plate, Furniture, and Baggage, as was worth 200,000 Crowns. This very Day the King of Sardinia is expected at Alessandria, in order to confer there with Count Traun, in relation to the operations of the ensuing Campaign. It is with the most Satisfaction we observe the perfect Harmony which subsists between his Majesty and that experienced Officer, which, no doubt, was strengthened by the Order the King lately sent his Forces, viz. to obey his Excellency implicitly, and as if he commanded in Person.

Praha, March 6. Some time ago three Edicts were admitted to Prague, in order to their being publish'd there, and throughout the Kingdom of Bohemia. 1. The fixing the Term of 6 Weeks, to be reckon'd from the 8th Instant, for all suspected Persons to surrender themselves, and appear before the Royal Commission of Enquiry. 2. For prohibiting absolutely the Entrance of French Goods, of what kind soever, into the Kingdom of Bohemia, and its Dependancies, upon pain of confiscation, and a high Penalty besides. 3. For restraining Luxury, by which all embroider'd and laced Cloaths are forbidden to be made or sold, and a Term of two years granted for the wearing out such as are made up already. All the Nobility are prohibited making rich hangings their Apartments with Tapestries of great value, or so much as giving new Liveries to their Servants on account of the approaching Ceremony of her Majesty's Coronation. Men of Quality however are allowed to wear lac'd Hats, and embroider'd Furniture for their Houses. When Count Khevenhuller set out from Prague, in order to return to the Army, her Majesty sent him a Present of her Picture set with Diamonds of great Value. The Grand Duke's Field Equipage is now ready, whence we conclude, that he intends to share in the approaching Campaign. According to an authentick List of the Forces rais'd for her Majesty's Service in Hungary, Croatia, and Transilvania, amount to no less than 56,000 Men; and we reckon they will join the Army before the End of the Month.

Frankfort, March 16. On Monday the 11th Instant the Director of Saltzbourg propos'd with the usual Solemnities in the College of Princes, the grand Affair of establishing the Peace of the Empire. He observ'd, that his Imperial Majesty had more than once express'd sincere and earnest Desire to restore Peace to his distracted Country; that taking Advantage of these favourable Sentiments of his Imperial Majesty, the Princes and States of the Empire ought immediately to resolve to join their own Mediation with that of other Powers, in order to terminate the present unhappy War, and to this end he desired it might be consider'd, first, how this Mediation might be best undertaken; and next, what Steps would be requisite to render it effectual. After the Ministers of several Courts had deliver'd their Sentiments, pursuant to their Instructions, the Debate was adjourn'd; but not before it was evident, that the Refusal, or, as we call it here, the Conclusion of the Dyet will be, that the Empire shall continue to observe an exact Neutrality, and shall invite the Maritime Powers to join in proposing their Mediation for reconciling the August Houses of Bavaria and Austria, and thereby re-establishing the Peace of the Empire.

Hague, March 12. The Marquis de Fenelon, Ambassador from the French King, had a Conference last Week with the President of the States; in which he express'd, in very warm Terms, his Apprehensions of the Consequences that must attend the sending 20,000 Men to the Relief of the Queen of Hungary. But it is thought his Expostulations will have no great Effect, since we are very well satisfied, that this Resolution will not be more acceptable to the Courts of Vienna and London, than to those of Berlin and Dresden, notwithstanding the Reports that have been spread to the contrary. The Negotiation which has been depending some time between their High Mightinesses and the Court of Saxe-Gotha, in relation to their taking into their Pay a considerable Body of his Forces, is at length concluded, and we shall soon know how those Troops are to be disposed of. The States of Friesland have consented to the March of the Auxiliaries, and we expect very speedily the Accession of the States of Gueldres and Over-Yssel to the same Proposition.

Extract of a Private Letter — Paris, March 18.

'At length a considerable Revolution has happen'd in our Court at a Time when it was least of all expected. His Majesty, in several Conversations he had with M. Belleisle, intimated to him, that he was not absolutely satisfied as to the Account given him of his Retreat from Prague. The last Conference his Excellency had with the King on this Subject was on the 13th, and the next Day, to the Surprise of all the World, the Marshal set out for his Seat at Bisi, about 15 Leagues from Paris; where, it is said, he will have nothing to do, but to endeavour to recover his Health, which has been much impair'd by the Fatigues of the last Campaign. Some People will needs have it, that the late Card. Fleury, in one of his last Conferences with the King, advis'd his Majesty to lay aside the Marshal, as a Person whose Counsels had been prejudicial to his Affairs. M. Noailles is at present look'd upon as the Person principally consult'd in military Affairs. We have it confidently reported, that the Duke de Bouillon will speedily be sent to Madrid, in order to demand the eldest Infanta of Spain for a Consort to the Dauphin. Expresses arrive frequently from the Army of the Infant Don Philip, but the Contents of them remain an impenetrable Secret.'

Philadelphia, Dec. 2. On Monday last Capt. Conyers arriv'd here from New Providence, who informs us, That on the 10th of Nov. the Day he left that Place, a Spanish Privateer, and a Sloop he had taken belonging to New-England, laden with Molasses, &c. were brought in there. 'Twas said they had miss'd their direct Course thro' the Gulf of Florida, and were first espied by a Pilot-boat off Exuma, who gave the Intelligence; and immediately a Sloop and two Gallies were fitted out from Providence. The Sloop being laden heavy with Salt, the Gallies came up with and engaged them first; the Enemy being superior, kill'd and wounded several of the English; but the Sloop coming up, and firing a few Shot, they directly struck. The Spaniards had but about 20 Hands, the rest being sent away in some Prizes they had taken.

Philadelphia, Dec. 16. We have received the agreeable News, by way of New-York, That the Privateers George, and Joseph and Mary, of this Place, have taken two very valuable Prizes, and carried them into Providence:

The Particulars we have extract'd from the Letters of the two Captains, Sibbalds and Dowel, to the Owners here, dated at Providence the 18th of November past; viz.

'We arriv'd at this Port the 16th Instant, with a Spanish Register Ship and a Settee, which we took on the 27th of October, 25 Leagues Leeward of Barracos: The Ship is laden with Bale Goods, mounts 14 Carriage and 20 Swivel Guns, and had 62 Men; she belong'd to the Royal Company of Cadiz, and was bound to the Havanna; the Company's Cargo was valued at (as appears by the Account) at 33,000 l. She includes the Private Trade. The Settee is an Admiral from Cadiz likewise, and was bound to La Vera Cruz, having two 6 Pounders, 44 small Arms answerable: She has on board a half of Quick-silver contain'd in 300 Boxes containing one hundred and a half, and 200 Barrels of Wine, some Tons of Iron, and Chests of Small Arms. She is valued at 12,000 l. Sterling.

'We had the good Fortune to take the said Vessels without the Loss of a Man, and had only two but slightly wounded, tho' the Engagement continued from Eight in the Morning till half an Hour after Ten.

'We killed the Spaniards 15 or 16, among which was the Captain of the Ship, who fell the first Broad-side we gave them, and a Lieutenant-Colonel belonging to the Havanna, who was the Governor of the Havanna's Nephew. They had likewise 21 wounded.

'The George received no other Damage than a three Pound Shot thro' the Head of her Foremast, and three Timbers on the Larboard Bow broke short off by the Deck in boarding.

'There was a large Ship in Company with the Ship and Settee, under French Colours; she gave two Broad-sides to the George, and another to the Joseph and Mary, and then run away.

'We propose to make but a short Stay at Providence, having Intelligence of Four other Ships from Cadiz bound to the Havanna, and hope to get out of them some Spanish Wine to drink Success to His Britannick Majesty's Arms, and our Owners good Healths at Christmas.

'We design to leave our Prizes under the Protection of the Forts, with proper Officers of our own to take Care of them till we return from our Cruise.

'By some of the Papers we understand, that the King of Spain is very anxious to hear what Success his Forces have had in their Expedition against Georgia.

'P. S. Nov. 19. Since we wrote the above, a Flag of Truce is arriv'd with a Letter from the Governor of the Havanna, in order to exchange Prisoners, and to ransom his Nephew, if he had been living: Four English Prisoners are already sent us, and there are 280 remaining at the Havanna, among whom is Capt. Hogg, all of whom we hope to be the Means of discharging, as the Governor here informs us we may be, and to have them sent to us at Providence. The Officer who is charged with the Commission of Exchanging Prisoners, brings also full Powers from the President and Directors of the Company, to treat for the Ransom of the Ship and Cargo. And if they will give the full Value in good hard Dollars, we think That will be better to bring to Philadelphia than the Goods, as they are only suitable for a Spanish Market. The Governor, who is very much our Friend, advises us to ransom her, if we can agree for the Value. But the Vessel we write of, being lost upon sailing, we cannot add further Particulars at present. The taking the Register Ship has put the Havanna all in an Uproar.

We hear further, That in a Paragraph of a Letter from the Governor of Providence to a Gentleman at New-York, the whole Amount of the Company's Effects and Private Trade on board the Prizes, is estimated to be not less than 90,000 l. Sterling; which makes it the greatest Booty taken by any American Privateer during the present War; and if the Discharge of the 280 English Prisoners is effected, the Glory will be equal to the Gain.

It is heartily to be wish'd the Money may arrive safely at Philadelphia; it would give new Life to our Trade, which begins to languish for Want of a sufficient Currency; the above-mentioned Sum being more than all we have at present among us.
